I think the closest I can come to a fitting description is 'a fun and exciting way of going for a drink at closing time.' After my first application, my husband and I travelled around the country participating in a couple of big festivals. No disasters, no outright disasters that is, just some very entertaining mishaps and a few crazy nights. The Big Sky Documentary Film Festival,

We use the velocity profiles of red cells flowing in capillary segments at rest as measured by combined ultrasonic methods for the simultaneous determination of the flow in the two different dimensions of the capillary (tangential and longitudinal, parallel and perpendicular to the long axis of the capillary). By the combined use of ultrasound echo technique and Doppler technique, these methods provide two different instantaneous velocities of the red cells in the capillary: (a) in the capillary-tangential axis, (b) in the capillary-longitudinal axis. These velocities are used to estimate the relative viscosity of the red cells. A computerized interface between the two ultrasonic methods enables simultaneous determination of these two velocities. In the present paper, we show the results obtained for the pathophysiology of the red cells in capillaries. We have examined the blood of patients with the diagnosis of sickle cell and/or beta-thalassemia: indeed, hemoglobinopathies are characterized by a significant elevation of the relative viscosity of the red cells and their ability to aggregate which is responsible for the characteristic pathophysiology of these diseases.The present invention relates generally to semiconductor packaging and, more particularly, to wafer level semiconductor packages having a low profile. Semiconductor components or dies such as, for example, memory, ASICs, and processor dies, are conventionally enclosed in a package before being used. For example, memory products such as, for example, dynamic random access memory (DRAM) chips, are enclosed in a plastic package. The plastic package includes a die attach adhesion and encapsulant, which encapsulates the chip, and outer leads for coupling the package to a printed circuit board (PCB). For memory products having a high lead count, it is common practice to encapsulate multiple dies in a multi-chip package (MCP). For example, in a 16 GB MCP, 16 dies may be disposed in a two-dimensional array and encapsulated in a single package. Flexibility is often desired in semiconductor packaging. One desired feature
